Gearing up for Belgium ride

PREPARATIONS are underway for the second Love Luton Ride To Remember.

A team of cyclists went on a short ride on Wednesday to raise the profile of the event.

Coinciding with the Luton Poppy Appeal, which sees poppies planted across the town, this year's event will look to build on the success of last year's inaugural ride.

On the first day cyclists will travel from Luton to Chatham for the first overnight stay. Riding will begin early Saturday morning catching the ferry and finishing the second day in Dunkirk.

Day three will see the team arrive at Loos.

Along the way the cyclists will visit war memorials and pay their respects to the many who lost their lives.

Linsey Frostick, chairwoman of Love Luton, said: "The bike ride last year was one of our most challenging and exciting events to date. It was a great achievement and many of the cyclists who took part along with raising almost £15k."

The cyclists are raising money for charities which include Help for Heroes, The Royal British Legion, the Air Ambulance Service and Luton Poppy Appeal.

Anyone is welcome to take part, visit loveluton.org.uk/remembrance for more information.

Green chief is suspended after verbal abuse claim

BY CARL MUNGABI

carl.mungabi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A SENIOR council director has been suspended for allegedly verbally abusing a councillor from a neighbouring authority.

Colin Chick, the corporate director for environment and regeneration at Luton Borough Council, is said to have 'laid into' the councillor during the Municipal Journal Awards in London on June 18.

When questioned, the authority said it did not 'discuss staffing matters'.

A council insider told Luton on Sunday staff have been told Mr Chick is on 'special leave'.

Mr Chick was absent from Thursday's official opening of the £30 million M1 J10a scheme, a project he was deeply involved in.

At the event, Trevor Holden, the council's chief executive, told this newspaper: "Colin drove this scheme and it's a disappointment that he's not with us. But absolutely, he should be really pleased in a scheme that's been well delivered."

When asked to comment on reports of the alleged verbal abuse, he said: "I hear lots of things as the day goes on and in the same way I wouldn't want anyone to comment on my personal circumstances, I wouldn't want anyone to comment on somebody else's."

The council insider added: "I was not at the event so I can't say what happened exactly, but I know a number of staff have been interviewed about what took place."

"I was told he laid into a councillor at the Municipal Journal awards on June 18, and this prompted [the suspension]. The awards take place in a big posh London hotel; there were a lot of officers there."

"The story is he has been placed on 'special leave' but most people at the council now know he has been suspended. You will notice that Colin was not at the opening of Junction 10a, but he is the kind of man who would have wanted to be there come hell or high water."

"He will probably be upset that people feel this is overlooking the good work he has done, and I'm not denying he has done some good work for Luton, but a few people may see this as a kind of comeuppance; it's not the first time he has lost it at someone."

Mr Chick is one of the council's longest-serving directors. A senior Luton councillor, who was unaware of the news, said Mr Chick was a 'passionate' person who could 'rile people up'.

The councillor added: "The thing about Colin is that he is passionate about his portfolio and the town and now and then he probably riles up some people, but he is passionate."

"I have to give him credit that whilst others have used Luton as a stepping stone he has taken it through one boom and one bust and he is still here. We all make mistakes and I hope it all gets sorted."

Luton on Sunday tried to contact Mr Chick but did not receive a response in time for our deadline.

Businesses Join Forces to Improve Luton Town Centre

Luton BID was officially launched earlier this year following a successful vote by the local businesses in the area last October to make Luton town centre a designated Business Improvement District.

The vision for the BID is to develop an energetic and entrepreneurial business community that is ambitious, innovative and always resourceful which connects, inspires and strengthens the business sector and creates cohesion, a vibrant town centre, a great visitor experience and a sense of pride in the town.

Nearly 1,000 businesses now pay a levy into the BID to deliver an agreed £2.5 million, five-year programme of improvements with the key objectives of:

- Promoting the area
- Working with partners to provide a safe and attractive environment for businesses and visitors
- Supporting and promoting business growth, development and investment and a sense of community

Future projects plans by the BID include: hot spot cleaning, events and Christmas promotional campaigns. If any business located within the BID would like to get involved in helping steer projects and join our working groups, please contact Luton BID on 01582 510657.

The Luton town centre Business Improvement District covers the commercial core. The boundary follows the inner ring road for much of the area and includes Power Court to the east and the Railway Station to the north.

Luton BID Appoints Ambassador Team

Luton Business Improvement District (BID) has appointed three local people as Street Ambassadors in the town centre with a number of key roles.

The Ambassadors will liaise with the diverse range of 1,000 businesses in the designated BID area. They will be helping support businesses by communicating the opportunities provided by the BID.

They will provide a valuable link between businesses and statutory authorities such as the Borough Council and Police on such issues as street cleaning, crime and anti social behaviour.

Dressed in distinctive uniforms they will also be a recognisable presence on the local streets – helping to promote the area, welcoming visitors to the town centre and helping to run events that are organised by the BID to animate the streets and improve the experience of visitors.

The new team are Joanne Dennis, Usman Salim and Ahmad Khan.

Mother of one Joanne Dennis (47) is born and bred in Luton and has worked in retail for many years.

She said: "It is important that we improve people's perceptions of Luton. I love this town as it is a great place to live and work."

"We are a friendly town with a diverse community and loads of great businesses. I am delighted to be part of the work to drive forward improvements and show just what the town centre has to offer."

Usman Salim (29) is an International Tourism Management graduate from the University of Middlesex. He has since been working voluntarily for a number of local organisations.

He said: "I am delighted to be part of the BID and relish the role to be working with businesses and the public alike. Hopefully I can play an important part in bringing about improvements in the town centre for everyone's benefit."

Ahmad Khan (41) has an extensive background in retail and customer service. He continued: "Luton has a lot of great things going for it and I want to show the town centre in its best light."

"My strengths are working with people and I am excited about the opportunity to do this as part of the BID and encourage businesses to get involved."

Fabiana Panetta is from pfbbuk Ltd who is the Luton BID contract management company. She said: "The Ambassadors will play a vital role in all aspects of the BID's work and are effectively the people who will have daily contact both with the businesses and the public.

"They all have a passion for the town and a desire to be part of the exciting programmes planned to improve the local environment, safety and security and the perceptions of Luton."

"They will be in regular contact with all the businesses in this area – helping signpost them to the relevant authorities to resolve any issues that they have and involving them in local initiatives as part of our BID objectives to build a sense of community in the town centre."

"We are therefore delighted to have them on board and look forward to them being a positive presence on the streets".

The Ambassadors started work in early July with an intensive induction training programme and will be on the Town streets as from mid July. If any businesses would like to request a specific visit, they are encouraged to contact the Luton BID office on 01582 510657.

Luton BID Brightens Up Town Centre

Luton Business Improvement District (BID) has teamed up with Luton Borough Council to bring colour back onto the town centre streets in the first stage of a floral displays programme.

Six neglected giant planters in George Street have been decked with colourful red, white and blue bedding plants to reflect the town's official coat of arms.

They will then be re-planted in the Autumn with evergreen plants and will be joined by further planters around the town centre in spring/summer 2016.

The planters are part of the Luton BID objective to improve the environment in the town centre.

Gavin O'Brien chair of the Luton BID Board, explained: "Our research and surveys showed that businesses and visitors alike wanted more colour in the streets and this is the first stage of the wider environmental programme over the next five years."

"Having an attractive environment in the town centre has a positive impact on a host of issues that we are planning to address under the BID programme.

"A colourful and cared-for environment changes perceptions of an area and engenders pride in people's surroundings.

"It will hopefully enhance our other work to encourage more people to enjoy our town centre— creating a more welcoming environment and prompting them to use it more often.

"Research also shows that there is less litter and anti social behaviour in streets that are clean, tidy and cared for."

Luton Live Street Entertainment

Luton Business Improvement District (BID) will be staging street entertainment events throughout the summer as part of its wider programme to encourage people to enjoy the town centre.

The first Luton Live Street Entertainment event was held on Saturday July 4 with a host of artists performing live music, and dance in the BID area.

Luton Live performances— coinciding with July 4 being Independence Day in the USA and also UK National Independent Retailers' Day in the UK — were celebrating the importance of independent businesses on the high street.

The next Luton Live event will be held on Saturday July 25 between 11am and 3pm with roving street entertainment taking place in key parts of the BID area including, The Mall, Market Hill and the town hall square.

Acts will include juggler and comedy painter and decorator Messy Moss who will make is Luton debut and will be 'painting the town' red, blue - and yellow!

Fellow street entertainer Rusty B will bring his own brand of comedy to the streets and musical entertainment will be courtesy of stylish vintage vocalist Rebecca Jayne and acoustic guitar and singer Josh Kemp.

Then on the weekend of Saturday August 8 and Sunday August 9, the town centre will come alive with host of music, comedy, dance and theatre.

Luton Live on Saturday will include a range of acts for the whole family.

It will be followed the next day with 'The Colour of Time' — a spectacular outdoor performance billed as a rainbow eruption of coloured powder, music, dance and theatre.

The performance will be held between 2pm and 3.30pm and is inspired by the traditional Holi Festival.

It is presented by Luton Creates, one of 21 national Creative People and Places programmes funded through Arts Council England to enable more people to engage with and be inspired by the arts

Further Luton Live events are then planned for Saturday September 5 and Saturday October 3.

Gavin O'Brien from creative agency Clearhead is chair of the Luton BID Board, which drives forward activities under the area's new Business Improvement District status.

He explained: "The first Luton Live event had very positive feedback from visitors to the town centre.

"The street entertainment reflects the value of having a BID – organising activity in a coordinated way that is high quality and accessible to everyone.

"When we were preparing our case to launch the Luton BID, we asked local businesses and visitors about their perceptions of Luton town centre and improvements they wanted made.

"A recurring theme was that they wanted more vibrancy and entertainment in the streets to create a fun and enjoyable atmosphere that would encourage more people back to the town centre.

"I hope that people will take the opportunity to bring the whole family along to enjoy the fun atmosphere at the future events.

"We are also delighted to be working closely with Luton Creates to host and promote 'The Colour of Time' which will be a spectacular performance in the town centre and attract potentially thousands of visitors to enjoy a wonderful event.

"We will continue to work with Luton Culture and other local organisation to engage with local artists and talents which might include choirs and street dance which have been such a big part of the cultural history of the town."

Residents set to lose police 999 call centre

BY JENNA HUTBER
jenna.hutber@bedsunday.com

EMERGENCY police call centres are to close by 2017 as part of plans to merge Bedfordshire, Cambridgeshire and Hertfordshire forces.

Bedfordshire will lose its sole force control room, based in Kempston, which acts as a first contact for both 101 and 999 calls. The Kempston centre is expected to shut down by March 2017 and public calls will instead be diverted to Hinchingbrooke in Cambridgeshire and Welwyn Garden City in Hertfordshire.

Proposals to combine police public contact services were finalised at a meeting of police and crime commissioners and chief constables last Thursday. The three forces are expected to save £4 million by combining their force control rooms, which not only deploy officers to emergency calls but also record crime and antisocial behaviour.

Police and Crime Commissioner Olly Martins said: "Our financial circumstances mean that we have to take some really tough decisions about how to make savings, protect our frontline and invest in service transformation through new technology, all at the same time."

"I am convinced our three police forces working together is the answer to this conundrum when it comes to the best future for our control rooms, and looking at what we have achieved, combining functions such as forensics, major crimes, roads policing, and armed response gives me considerable confidence in this conclusion."

The proposals will be phased in gradually over the next two years and subject to a staff consultation, due to take place over the coming months.

The Strategic Alliance between the three forces and Police and Crime Commissioners is an on-going programme of work to collaborate police services to meet a predicted funding shortfall of £56.6 million by 2019/20.

Bedfordshire Police must save £17.5 million.

Remodelled junction will 'unlock' town growth

A £30 million transport scheme officially opened this week will 'unlock' further development in the town, the council's chief executive has said.

Trevor Holden, of Luton Borough Council, said projects such as those at Napier Park and Butterfield will benefit from the new M1 Junction 10a layout.

The scheme was unveiled on Thursday by Transport Minister Andrew Jones MP, who said the remodelled junction was part of the government's plan of creating 'faster and more reliable transport links'.

Mr Jones also visited the A5-M1 Woodside Link road in Dunstable to mark the start of the of the main construction phase. Mr Holden said: "There is going to be a focus on the airport and the growth of the airport."

"That's just not about people flying in and people flying out but about how many businesses we can anchor in its supply chain or the high-tech aviation industry.

"It's about working with the university to support the requirement for jobs because what is important to us as a town is that we grow homegrown talent so we've got homegrown skills and we can create Luton jobs for people from Luton."

The 54-year-old, who now lives in the north of England, was this week found guilty at Luton crown court of indecency with a child.

The offence was committed on his then stepdaughter when she was a young teenager and they lived in Dunstable. The victim - who is now in her 20s, told the court how on one occasion when she was around 14, her stepdad took her into his bed, exposed himself and began masturbating. Lorna has the force with her at funeral

carl.mungabi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A GRANDMOTHER was laid to rest today on Wednesday following a funeral procession led by Darth Vader and mourners in fancy dress.

Lorna Johnson, 56, was a big Star Wars fan and a white witch, who loved fancy dress and Halloween.

She passed away after a losing an eight-month battle with cancer and her family of four children and ten grandchildren said they wanted her funeral to be a celebration of her life.

Mourners wore witch hats, Halloween, Star Wars and Disney fancy dress and the service was conducted by Darth Vader.

Her son Neil, 34, dressed as the Tasmanian Devil, his two sisters wore witches' hats and a friend dressed up as the film character Beetlejuice.

Neil said: "My mum was a truly wonderful and unique person."

"Everybody loved her and we want to acknowledge everything that she loved by celebrating her life at her funeral."

"Mum loved Halloween so we're wearing witch hats and Halloween and Star Wars costumes to pay tribute to her life."

Funeral director Brett Houghton, from Co-op Funeralcare, happened to have a Darth Vader costume and suggested he could wear it for the service.

He said: "We personalise every detail of a funeral as much as possible to make it unique to that individual.

"Lorna's family wanted today to be a celebration of her life and we're confident that her personality will shine through."

FARMED OUT:
Consultations have begun on the first phase of work on the Marsh Farm Development

Consultation on first stage of Marsh Farm work

THE council has begun consulting on the first phase of the long-awaited £17 million Marsh Farm development. Luton Borough Council is consulting on proposals to begin by building seven commercial units and 24 flats, parking, and an outdoor gym. The authority wants to build a combination of 16 flats and maisonettes, three blocks of 85 flats, 11 houses and 1,503 square metres of retail space at the site currently home to the Purley Centre. Groups and individuals affected by the scheme have until August 8 to submit their responses to the phase one works. Residents living at the site will be moved out while work is done.

Councillor slams £6m benefit loss

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A TOTAL of £6m in housing benefit has been overpaid by Luton Borough Council.

A combination of payments made in error and fraudulent claims has led to the deficit, which was revealed at an Overview and Scrutiny Board Meeting on Tuesday evening.

Cllr David Franks said: "It is absolutely outrageous that the council has been forced to admit that in the current financial year it expects to be unable to recover almost £6m which has been wrongly paid to housing benefit claimants who were not entitled to it."

"I can understand that from time to time someone might be paid too much or paid out on a fraudulent claim, but it is all taxpayers' money and we are entitled to expect that as soon as they find out the council would immediately take whatever steps are necessary to claim the money back."

The board recommended to the council's executive that the sum of money which can be written off was reduced from £20k to £10k. There was one instance where somebody had been overpaid £27k, but the council were powerless to take any action, as the statute imposed time limit had already passed.

Cllr Franks added: "The Labour council leaders need to explain why Luton residents should put up with our streets getting dirtier, libraries closing and council tax increasing whilst they throw away £6m of our money which they should be claiming back." When Luton on Sunday contacted Cllr Fiona Green, a Labour Party member of the Overview and Scrutiny Board who was also present at the meeting, she declined to comment on the matter that Cllr Franks had raised.

'Heartbreak' over £12k jewel heist

BY CARL MUNGABI

carl.mungabi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A JEWELLER rewarded for fighting off an armed robber has spoken of his 'heartbreak' at losing £12,000 worth of goods during a break-in.

Derek Tatham, who owns Tatham Jewellers in High Town Road, said burglars smashed their way into his shop through the rear entrance and left the place looking like a 'disaster zone'.

In 2013 a judge awarded Mr Tatham £250 for successfully fighting off a drug addict who threatened to shoot him during a botched robbery at his store.

Following the recent burglary, Bedfordshire Police said one of their dogs has recovered some of the items. Investigating officer, PC Samantha Toombs, said the force was 'committed to finding those responsible for this extremely distressing crime'.

Mr Tatham, who has run the store for 40 years, said: "It was a surprise when the police called me in the

RESILIENT: Derek Tatham said he was angry over theft but refused to let it stop him running his jewellery business middle of the night because the alarm system had issued an alert. When I arrived at the scene the police were there already.

"They said the burglars had gone in through the back of the shop and lots of things were smashed."

The jeweller said he had suffered other burglaries in recent years but none had resulted in the loss of this much jewellery. He said: "It's really heartbreaking because I do work long hours and someone comes in and within a short while they just clear everything out. I have the faith that the police will catch them."

Anyone with information about the incident can call PC Toombs on 101 or contact Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

36 YEARS MANUFACTURING EXPERIENCE
— OUR OWN EXPERIENCED FITTING TEAMS

ADVERTISEMENT Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee.'

But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Man is guilty of killing daughter

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

A FATHER was found guilty of the manslaughter of his nine week old baby daughter on Tuesday.

Adam Stokes, of Runfold, Luton, had violently shaken his daughter Scarlett, causing massive brain injuries.

Trial judge at Luton Crown Court, Mrs Justice McGowan, requested pre-sentence reports from the probation service, which will conduct an interview with 33-year-old Stokes in prison.

It was in January 2013 when his daughter Scarlett collapsed at their eighth floor flat in Luton having stopped breathing and suffered a cardiac arrest.

Scarlett was rushed to the Luton and Dunstable Hospital and transferred the same day to Great Ormond Street Hospital in London.

She never regained consciousness and died there 10 days later when the life support was withdrawn.

Throughout the trial the prosecution said the father was responsible for the appalling injuries she suffered by shaking her with "excessive force," which caused her brain injuries.

Stokes, who had pleaded not guilty to the charge, was remanded in custody ahead of sentencing on August 11, with the judge telling him that a prison sentence was inevitable.

INTENSE SEARCH: An armed policeman scours the area for a suspect, following attack

Attempted murder charge after children's centre attack

A MAN has been charged with attempted murder after an incident at a children's centre last Sunday.

Police were called after reports of a disturbance at a property in Rothesay Road, during which a man and a woman suffered injuries. Armed police carried out a manhunt to look for the suspect.

Fatmir Mula, 44, of Lowe Avenue, Newham, was arrested on Monday and was charged with two counts of attempted murder and possession of a bladed article.

He appeared at Luton magistrates court on Wednesday and was remanded in custody.

Central Bedfordshire Education Appeals Panels – seeking new Members

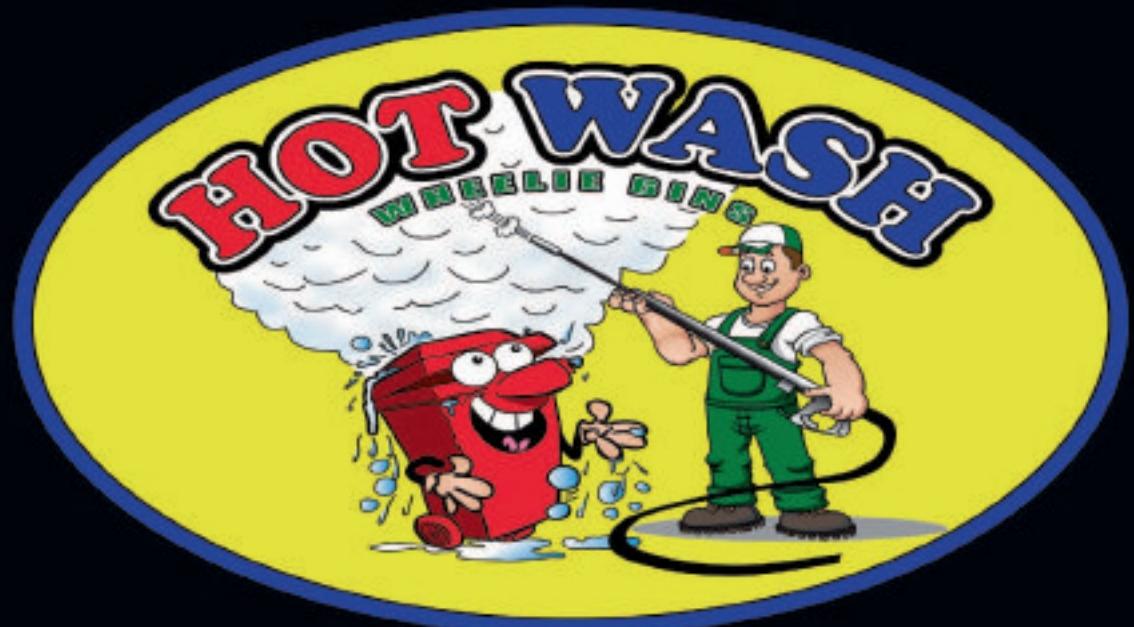

Applications are invited for new panel members to join education appeals panels in Central Bedfordshire. If you have an interest in education and feel able to offer some time on an occasional basis, we would be interested to hear from you.

Each panel is made up of three people who are independent of the Local Education Authority. The panel hears admissions appeals against decisions not to admit children to particular schools, and exclusion appeals against decisions by schools not to reinstate pupils who have been permanently excluded from the school. Panel meetings are held within business hours.

Applications are invited from people of all backgrounds as the panel is made up of lay members and those with experience in education. A lay member is a person without personal experience in the provision of education in any school (disregarding experience as a school governor or in another voluntary capacity). A member with experience in education is a person who is familiar with education conditions in the Local Education Authority's area or is a parent of a registered pupil at a school.

Training will be provided for new panel members and the Appeals Clerk will be present at all the Hearings to give legal and procedural advice. The work is unpaid but travel expenses are provided.

If you are interested in becoming a panel member, please contact Mel Peaston, Committee Services Manager at Central Bedfordshire Council on 0300 300 6076 for an application form and more information. Alternatively, please send an email to mel.peaston@centralbedfordshire.gov.uk

Another less than fine mess

I WRITE in response to Mr Ronald Barber's letter (LoS July 5).

Mr Barber is obviously not a dog lover and his sweeping generalisation that 'people only take their dogs out for a walk so they can poo' is extremely offensive.

I have owned dogs all my life and like the majority of other responsible dog owners, consciously clean up after my dog.

Perhaps Mr Barber should realise that dogs do not just go for a walk just to poo, but for exercise and stimulation.

I dare not even begin to think of what Mr Barber thinks of cats.

I am sure, like me, he has frequently cleaned up cat mess from his garden.

Egomaniac steals headlines

So what? That is not news.

Transform social attitudes

I HAVE just come back from the continent of Europe where I saw clean streets and parks and no rampaging, drunken youths.

This makes a striking contrast to what I see at home and I demand change.

Widespread litter and anti-social behaviour seem to have become a part of everyday life.

It is not good enough, Mr Cameron, but with your vigour and determination, we can send out a message and transform social attitudes.

The idea of an uncontrolled, moronic society is outdated; a more disciplined and less wasteful culture is the way to start to clean up the areas around schools so as to influence children for better.

Teachers, heads of departments and head teachers must not tolerate untidiness in and around their schools and then children might develop a sense of pride in their clean and orderly surroundings.

Then, the operation must spread outwards and when shops, streets and towns are no longer infested with litter, people will feel less inclined to dump their rubbish in a mindless way whenever they please.

A society like ours, which cannot direct the habits and attitudes of its children, cannot be called civilised.

Bad parenting and social deprivation are the root causes – some parents need re-educating before having children, but not, please, at the expense of the state.

Nimbyism shuts off the power

IT'S very fashionable for politicians to promote devolution. Not just of Scotland – the disastrous effects of which are yet to become fully realised – but next, we're told, sweeping new devolved powers are to be given to cities, counties and even large towns.

At first this looks very progressive and is sold with whizz phrases such as 'power to the people' and 'true democracy'.

But I don't think it's been properly thought through and the recent decision of Blackpool's council to block fracking for natural gas in their area gives an alarming clue to the possible outcomes of too much local control.

Becoming more self-sufficient in fuel and less dependent on unreliable foreign sources is something which would benefit the whole of the UK. But Blackpool councillors' nimby response has put the kybosh on that. If their short-sighted and very selfish attitude is repeated across the country we will never get our hands on that precious fuel which is there for the taking and is right beneath our feet.

Similarly the SNP want the nuclear subs removed from Holy Loch – but they still want UK defence to protect them from Russia's sabre-rattling bully boy.

Although it's a slight misquotation there is a famous saying that 'the whole is greater than the sum of its parts'. Which is a major reason for why companies merge and form conglomerates. So how can it make sense to split us into ever smaller entities? Perhaps they would like to reduce the British Isles to a collection of permanently warring city states such as Italy had until the middle of the nineteenth century.

Blackpool's narrow self-interest has deprived us all of a more stable, secure and prosperous future. Let's put an end to this latest fad which serves nobody other than power-hungry politicians and get back to having national interests represented and controlled at national level.

BACK INSIDE: Tommy Robinson was out on licence

Return to jail for ex-EDL leader

FORMER English Defence League leader Tommy Robinson has been recalled to prison.

A statement on his Twitter account said he has been told to return to HMP Peterborough. Tommy, whose real name is Stephen Lennon, had been out on licence after being jailed last year for mortgage fraud.

His licence is due to end on Wednesday but the statement said he could have a charge added on for breaching his licence conditions.

Head doubles up in 'stretched' school

BY CARL MUNGIZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE headteacher of a school facing financial difficulties is have to double up as a part-time science teacher because of staff shortages.

Putteridge High School, on Putteridge Road, is said to be lacking up-to-date equipment and is unable to run some subjects according to a council report.

The document, discussed at the Luton Schools Forum meeting on Wednesday, states that secondary schools in the town need to find 2,400 places across Years 7-11 between now and 2020 to meet the projected demand.

Putteridge has seen a gradual reduction in pupil numbers from 1,055 in January 2007 to 589 in October.

This has left the school, which had a £200,000 deficit in 2009, unable to set a budget with surplus until the 2018/19 financial year.

It also lost 25 teachers and 15 support staff between 2009-2014 because of a 'phased restructuring'.

Teachers still at the school are also having to take on multiple responsibilities.

Following the meeting, a council spokeswoman said the school had secured additional funding from the government's Dedicated Schools Grant and was now in 'a positive position to move forward and address the issues highlighted in the report'.

College told cash will come with students

BY CARL MUNGABI

carl.mungabi@lutononsunday.co.uk

MORE funding will be given to a college if it is able to increase the number of students attending, a minister has said.

Central Bedfordshire College has had its funding for the 2015/16 academic year cut after it recruited fewer students in 2014/15 compared to the previous year.

In a letter to South West Bedfordshire MP Andrew Selous, who had raised concerns about the cuts, Skills Minister Nick Boles, MP, said the college could not be treated 'very differently' to other institutions.

Central Bedfordshire has been consulting staff on potential redundancies and Luton on Sunday understands a number of lecturers have already left.

Some students also face having to continue the next year of their courses elsewhere because they have also been scrapped.

According to the letter, the college made two attempts to have its funding reviewed.

In one of its pleas, it asked the government to consider the effect its £15 million redevelopment had on its recruitment ability.

A teacher, who has left the college and wishes to remain anonymous said: "It's a real shame, but we have all sort of got over it and a few of my colleagues have secured themselves some amazing jobs."

"It's a real shame for the students on the second year courses. The college has been great and supportive to everyone leaving but it's been a horrible process in that respect."

Right up your street

Young lad went from hat factory to town mayor

THIS week, Howard Chandler looks at the street named after a prominent resident ABOUT 100 people have been Luton Mayor but few have had a road named after them.

In 2004, the new relief road beside the railway line linking the Old and New Bedford Roads was given the name Hucklesby Way.

It was named after Asher J Hucklesby, the son of a Stopsley grocer who left school to work in a hat factory at the age of 13.

Before he was 30 he started his own hat business and it grew to become one of the largest in the town. He later became a councillor and was elected mayor five times.

In 1904 the council was dithering over the purchase of the privately-owned Bramingham Shot house and estate. Hucklesby, with another councillor, bought it for £16,500.

The pair later sold it to the council for the same amount and Luton has benefitted from the green space of Wardown Park ever since.

In 1908 Hucklesby died at his residence, Leaside House (now the Leaside Hotel) and was buried in Rothesay Road cemetery after the largest funeral seen in Luton.

'Disgusting' village vandals strike again

BY NICK SMITH
nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A BENCH set on fire in a memorial garden has sparked outrage and concern among village residents.

The people of Toddington were shocked by a suspected arson attack in the village's memorial garden, the latest incident in a recent spate of anti-social behaviour.

Toddington resident Judy Biddlecombe said: "What it's got people asking is 'why?'

"People may say it's just a bench, but it's part of a memorial to those who died in the First and Second World War."

"People are a bit on edge at the moment as there has been a number of distraction burglaries and incidents of vandalism."

A number of others from Toddington took to the Toddington Village Facebook page to express their disgust.

Phil Mead said: "I can't imagine what goes through people's heads, to think that doing something like this is a good idea."

"We used to get up to some antics when we was kids growing up in the village, but this is a whole new level."

"The sooner the idiots are caught, the better."

Sandra Bishop Lyon said: "How disgusting. It makes you so mad the way some people think they can do this sort of thing and get away with it. I hope they are caught and taught a lesson."

Bedfordshire Fire and Rescue Service and Bedfordshire Police attended the incident, which is being treated as suspicious.

Is town winning its

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

OVER the last two years Luton has been clamping down on prostitution, with High Town a particular focus for a five-year plan to eradicate the on-street sex trade.

At a meeting of Luton Borough Council's Overview and Scrutiny Board on Tuesday, the council's specialist on public health and alcohol, Ian Houghton, spoke of strides forward in the rehabilitation of sex workers in Luton and the success of helping break the 'cycle of coercion' - one of the most common reasons why women stay in this line of work.

The strategy is a joint effort between council and police. But residents feel that very little progress has been made.

Shahzad Khadam, who is part of a campaign calling for action to tackle the problem, feels that any improvements have been almost unnoticeable.

He said: "The report says there has been progress, but they're not out there on the streets.

"Residents feel threatened and embarrassed by it, the strategy has been a waste of time and a waste of money."

Eighty-seven-year-old Beryl Wallbank, who has lived in Luton for all of her life and called High Town her home for 24 years, echoed Mr Khadam's views. She said: "The girls are still out there, it's just not very nice.

"What they must have to go through makes my skin crawl. It's still the same as it was before as far as I'm concerned.

"When I come home at around 10pm they're already out there."

Many residents agree that there have been spates of progress, only for things to revert back to how they were before the adoption of the strategy. Mr Khadam added: "There has been definite improvement in the day-time, but for the most part when it's dark there has been no real noticeable improvement."

"To me it seems to have been brushed under the carpet by the police and council."

"All I've really seen is them say something to appease residents, accompanied with short-term improvement, only for it to go back to how it was shortly after."

Mr Houghton said: "There have been a number of successes, including helping 15 women out of the sex trade.

"Incidents in terms of kerb crawlers are down by more than a third and I've heard from some residents in High Town that they have noticed a decrease in sex workers."

Speaking at the meeting, he emphasised this is still an ongoing and challenging process.

On what the endgame for the strategy is, he said: "By the end of the five years we want to have eradicated the on-street sex trade."

"We want Luton to be an area where this doesn't happen and moreover for Luton not to be associated with it."

Does he really think this is achievable?

"It's a huge challenge," he said, "and there is a massive criminal element in the background supporting it."

"We've made great progress and we're confident there will be more."

Summing up his views on the strategy, Mr Khadam said: "The aim of the five year plan was to see the eradication of the on-street sex trade in Luton within that time."

"I think at the current rate of progress we'd be fortunate if it happened in 50 years."

Free solar panels on your home and reduce your electricity bills by up to 50%

Our client, a national installer of solar panel systems, is looking for properties with roofs suitable to install their free solar panels. They are currently installing over 450 systems every week and your property may qualify.

If your property qualifies you will get free electricity throughout the day at absolutely no cost to you.

This means you could reduce your monthly electricity bills by up to 50%*

*Subject to usage. Average saving on electricity bills over a full year is 37%.

This is a free offer with absolutely no cost to you at any time. You will not be required to change your electricity supplier.

We're sure you've heard the saying; 'Nothing's for free in this life' - So how does the company get paid?

The company gets paid under a Government scheme called the 'Feed in Tariff', which is why they are able to do it completely free if your property qualifies.

However, unfortunately for a variety of reasons approximately 80% of properties do not meet the qualifying criteria.

Does your property Qualify?

To qualify your property will be required to;

1. Have one of the roof surfaces, back or front, facing within 55° of south.
2. Have a roof surface large enough to fit at least a small system.
3. Have no over shading on relevant roof surface.
4. Be free of obstructions on relevant roof surface (flues etc).
5. Have access to purlins and rafters inside loft.
6. Have access and suitability to erect scaffolding or company's own work platform.
7. You have to own the property.
(Private landlords are acceptable).

To find out if your property qualifies or for further information please call Greener Solutions on 01582 206003 between 9am and 7pm.

Once installed the 'Feed in Tariff' payments to our client are guaranteed. However, the Government keep cutting the level of 'Feed in Tariff' payments for new, future installations. This means that there will come a point in time where our client will have to withdraw their free offer. Don't miss out by leaving it too late!

• Your property will receive a free up to date Energy Performance Certificate after installation.

•• You can help make the UK a greener place and save up to 50% off your electricity bills in the process.

Neglected path is pet safety hazard

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

OVERGROWN grass has left a pavement in a 'disgraceful state' and could harm dogs, a resident has said.

Doreen Steinberg, of Saywell Road, said nearby Bloomfield Avenue looks like a 'disused World War airfield' and has called on Luton Borough Council to clear the area.

She also said the type of grass growing on the pavement had hooks which could become embedded in dog's ears and paws.

Ms Steinberg said: "It's been like that for a long time. What happened is that they did not cut the grass at the right time and these seeds have been growing.

"Even if they sent grass cutters now they have to get the seeds out.

"They are more or less dead now because of their stage in the growth. Other places in Luton have the same problem but they are the worst I have seen.

"When it rained in the bad storm it brought all that stuff and it landed on top of the drains.

"It's just a disgrace. Why don't they get those people who do community service to do it?"

Ms Steinberg, who claims she cleaned some of the drains after they became covered in seed litter after a heavy storm, also criticised the council for scaling back its grass cutting service. She added: "This council wastes so much on other things but they cut things like grass cutting. How much did the busway cost yet they cannot maintain the town?"

A council spokesman said the location had been treated with a pesticide to kill the weeds and has now been de-weeded. She said verges are cut six to eight times per year but that covering the verges with tarmac would be 'very costly'.

Journey into Discworld and beyond with Pratchett artist

EXHIBITION

DISCWORLD & BEYOND

Wardown Park Museum
July 25-November 1

FEW authors have produced literature as distinctive as that of Sir Terry Pratchett.

The fantasy author and creator of the Discworld series died earlier this year but he did so leaving behind a literary legacy.

Part of that is due to the work done by illustrator Paul Kidby, responsible for the Discworld series since 2002.

For the next three months, visitors to Wardown Park Museum will have the opportunity to view a selection of his work for Sir Terry and personal projects, including the recently published book of faerie and folklore art, The Charmed Realm.

What is the thinking behind it?

Paul said: "We did an exhibition in Bournemouth that ran for six months. It's nice to have it there for that length of time and give it time to ripple out there to people because sometimes we get people contact us to say that they missed it. It's giving as many people as possible a chance to come and see it."

When Paul started off he was designing packaging for items such as computer games, coffee, lighting and anything that could 'pay the bills'.

How has his career developed since working with Sir Terry?

"It was lovely to get the chance to work with Terry Pratchett and creatively that's the top because you get to visualise what he was writing.

"When I first started working with him he had another artist called Josh Kirby who was doing covers.

"I actually queued up for a book signing for Terry and showed him some of the characters I had drawn and he later phoned me and said it was the closest drawing he had ever seen and from then on we started working together."

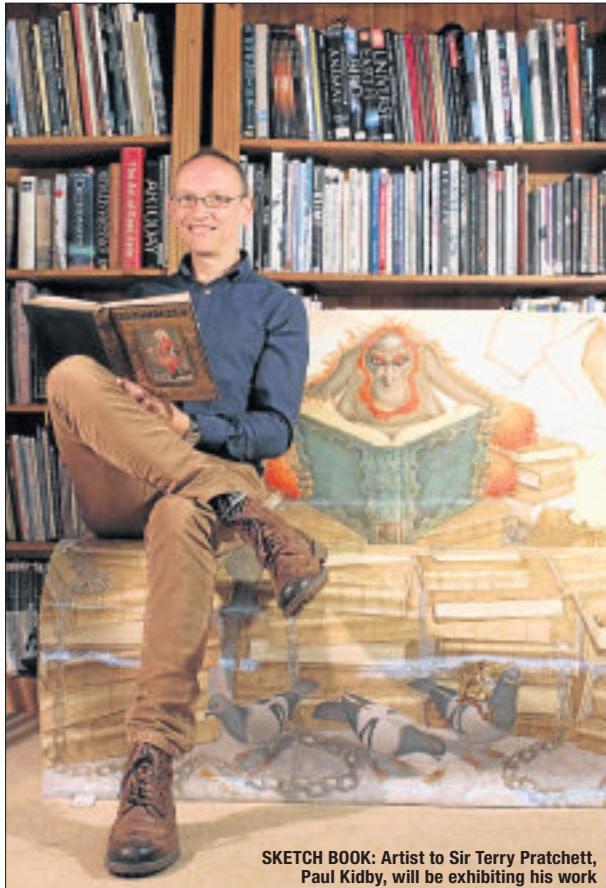

Paul said doing the book covers took him 'four to six weeks' as he had to get approval from publishers in the early stage before working on the final product and making the colours 'sing'.

He added: "Working with Terry was a fantastic opportunity because you are getting to a large audience. I think the diversity of Terry's writing is nice and most of the characters are not what you think they would be, so you have to try to depict them in the way that people see them."

What can people expect from the exhibition?

He said: "I know myself when I go to see exhibitions it's always lovely to see the original picture, so I'm hoping that for people who have Terry's work, it's a chance to come and see the painting and interact with it in a different way."

■ Entry to the exhibition is free.

Bringing family history to life at war exhibit

HISTORY

WREST PARK AT WAR

Wrest Park, Silsoe
Today - 2018

DO you have a family history connection to Bedfordshire country house Wrest Park?

Perhaps your grandfather was numbered among the 1,600 soldiers who were treated at the manor house during its days as a First World War temporary hospital. Did your great aunt serve as a nurse at the first country home to take in convalescing soldiers?

English Heritage historians are hoping a pop-up exhibition opening this week, telling the story of how Wrest Park and its grounds were put to use as a hospital during the Great War, will encourage residents to come forward and help put names to hundreds of soldiers and staff members who feature in the display's photographs.

Simon Passey helped bring stories of wartime Wrest Park by allowing English Heritage to use his grandfather's, Jack Wentworth Wilmshurst, detailed diary accounts of being treated at Wrest Park.

He said: "It makes me feel special and extremely happy to be involved, especially having been asked to come here for the opening."

In the drawing room of Wrest Park visitors can discover flipbooks of stories about people such as apprentice plumber Albert Victor Church who was often seen walking around the grounds with his talking pet jackdaw, with vivid extracts from diaries and historical photographs.

Wrest Park's reputation as one of the best country home hospitals in the country, praised by figures such as Winston Churchill, was largely due to the management of the Nan Herbert, Wrest Park owner Auberon's sister. Her detailed scrapbooks, complete with numerous photographs are a major feature in the display. Usual entry fees for the house and grounds - starting at £5.60 for children - apply.

Verity's caught in the middle of a murder mystery

THEATRE

AND THEN THERE WERE NONE

Milton Keynes Theatre
July 20-25, 7.30pm

A STORM-LASHED island off the coast of Devon. Ten guests, each with their own guilty secret, lured to the island under bogus promises. In Agatha Christie's darkest murder mystery the list of suspects, and the guests' prospects of survival, dwindle with every new death.

Verity Rushworth, who plays flirty secretary Vera Claythorne in a new production of the Christie classic coming to MKTheatre, is best known for her appearances in TV's Emmerdale.

Speaking about her switch from small screen to the stage, she said: "I was always doing amateur shows when I was younger, it's something I'm very passionate about. When you're on stage you know the audience are going to feel with you. And that's a pretty special feeling."

"I've done a few musicals but this is completely different to anything I've worked with before. It's a new challenge. And I love black comedy."

Vерти has enjoyed getting her teeth into a part unlike any she has ever played before.

"She unravels more than the other characters. Vera starts as a poised secretary but then the front flops. There's some Mary Poppins in her, also the evil Velma I played in Chicago and there's a little bit of me in her – the black comedy aspect."

Tickets start at £22.40. To book call 0844 8717652.

CONNORS COMBO: Steph Parry and Charlie Carter will be appearing at the Luton bar

Music is called to the bar

MUSIC

DRINKS AND LIVE MUSIC

Connors Café Bar

Every Thursday & Friday, 7-10pm

THE town's newest music café and music venue opens its doors again for back-to-back nights of vintage classics, jazz, soul and blues.

Since extending its opening hours on Thursday and Friday at the start of the month, Connors Café Bar has played host to a number of artists, including award-winning jazz singer Hannah Castleman (from vocal trio The Spitfire Sisters), the East Anglian guitarist Jonny Berglund and London-based singer Chloe Porter.

This coming Thursday, Charlotte Chinn from the 1940s girl band, The Sweetheartmonies, takes to the stage with a set of vintage classics from the 1920s-1950s. Her songs are set to have you humming and tapping your feet and will take you on a trip down memory lane.

After Charlotte's performance, actor and musician Charlie Carter performs acoustic covers of jazz, soul and blues the following day.

Charlie has played the guitar for 20 years and last year he released a four-track EP called Here's To Your Life from which he donating 100 per cent of the sales to a teenage cancer trust. He is scheduled to release a full album in 2016.

The singer has also worked with the Stereophonics as a main actor in the video for In A Moment and was one of the singers and actors for the official Euro 2012 England song, Sing 4 England, with Chris Kamara.

Next Thursday jazz singer and West End actress Steph Parry sings a mixture of jazz, soul and modern acoustic pop. And rounding off the month of July is Christopher Barlett, a vocalist from Barry in South Wales, specialising in swing, pop, gospel and musical theatre.

He has recently toured with A Spectacular Night Of Queen, performing Queen's greatest hits to tens of thousands of people across Europe.

Entrance for each event is free and there will be cocktails and drinks available. The live music begins at 7pm.

Ventriloquist Steve on a dummy run

STEVE Hewlett may best be known to audiences at the Grove for his role in last year's pantomime, but this time he's performing something different all together.

A ventriloquist since a young age, Steve will be stopping in for a night in Dunstable on his latest UK tour.

Steve has entertained people ranging from aged one to over 100, from Basingstoke to Perth, Australia.

He first picked up a puppet aged 12 and hasn't stopped since, honing his craft in a 25 year career which has seen him entertain everyone from holiday-makers to members of the royal family.

He tries to further the art in his own way, but also pays homage to ventriloquists such as Keith Harris and Peter Brough, in his performances.

The show starts at 7.30pm next Friday.

Tickets are £15 each, with a family ticket for two adults and two children costing £40 and available to book online at www.grovetheatre.co.uk

summer Out & About

WE'RE all going on a summer holiday... or maybe you're not?

Maybe it's one of those years when you're holidaying right here; camping in the secluded foothills of your own back garden; going exclusively all-inclusive and enjoying a fortnight of staycation comfort. Tell you what - you don't have to worry about airport security, missed ferries or certifiably mad continental drivers when you holiday at home!

The weather's gorgeous and there are some great places to visit, things to do and fun to be had right here on the doorstep. Days out with the family might only take a few hours but the memories last a lifetime. Whether it's a lazy day strolling in the sunshine, an active hour working out in the gym or a cooling dip in the pool while you splash all your cares away, getting out and about this summer will do you a power of good.

And if you're feeling good then you'll want to be looking your best too. Pamper yourself with a well-deserved mini spa break and then follow it up with a little retail therapy to lift your spirits even further - I dare you!

There never was a better time to spend your holidays right here!

Kites are ready to fly sky high over the Downs

DAY OUT

DUNSTABLE KITE FESTIVAL

Dunstable Downs
July 25-26

HOLD on to your hats (and kites) because the annual Dunstable Kite Festival takes off for the 15th time at the end of the month.

Dunstable Downs, a spot renowned for its all year-round kite flying weather and beauty, turns into an excellent vantage point for viewing some impressive aerial acrobatics by the professional kite display teams coming for the event.

The festival attracts more than 5,000 people and, in addition to the professionals, there will be a number of amateurs and enthusiasts getting in on the action too.

Christopher Strong, an assistant visitor experience manager at the National Trust, said the festival is a 'brilliant family day out'.

He commented: "It's big, it's exciting, it's a fun family day out."

"This is one of the biggest kite events for the National Trust and we obviously see a significant amount of people come to the property and enjoy the view whilst they see the kites flying."

"We have the professionals that do all the displays and then we have all the individuals that come along and ask for tips and techniques."

"We also have the dads who come along and say they will buy a kite for their son but then end up flying it themselves all afternoon. So it's a brilliant family day out".

This year the festival has teamed up with Panasonic for the Image that captures Dunstable Downs competition. Residents have been submitting their images of Dunstable Downs and the winner (to be announced at the festival) will receive a new digital camera.

Entry is free but parking costs £2.50 for people who are not members of the National Trust.

HIGH HOPES: The festival is one of the biggest events on the national kite-flying calendar and it will be landing in Dunstable Downs next weekend

What Your Agent Has To Say

Shared ownership can be cheaper than renting

RISING house prices and larger deposits are making it tougher for first time buyers to get on the property ladder and in many cases people are forced into living with family for longer or renting.

Purchasing a shared ownership property is a fantastic option when you find yourself in this position and in many cases you can move into a brand new property for as little as £6,000 (subject to status). You initially purchase a 50% to 75% share of the property and pay a subsidised rent on the share you don't own. The total monthly payment for the rent and mortgage usually works out less than renting an equivalent property and you are paying off your mortgage and building up equity at the same time.

This will allow you to move up the property ladder in the future or even purchase more shares in your shared ownership property until you own it outright.

Phone Jane at Elevation on 01234 271566 to find out if you qualify for a shared ownership property and to discuss current availability.

Your next property could be a page turn away!

Honda's new HR-V line-up offers toughness and style

Introducing a new generation of subcompact SUV to the marketplace, the all-new Honda HR-V delivers a unique proposition to the crossover segment: stylish coupé looks with the tough stance of an SUV, the space and versatility of an MPV, sophisticated-yet-fun driving dynamics and fuel-efficient performance.

Honda anticipates 70% of new HR-V customers will be conquest buyers from other brands, predominantly from the MPV and C-segment. The 4.3-metre long HR-V is designed to appeal to young singles and pre-family couples who value their lifestyles and are design conscious.

The all-new HR-V is a product borne of the determination to offer something fresh and innovative but with the real lives of real people and families at its core. The HR-V has a coupé-like cabin profile, with a powerful nose and strong lower body forms, together with finely sculpted surface detailing – creating a characterful look that will produce an emotional appeal among a target audience which highly values style and practicality.

Inside, the new HR-V offers occupants class-leading interior space and – thanks to Honda's innovative Magic Seat® system – high levels of versatility. High quality soft-touch materials and sophisticated design define the HR-V's interior where Honda's designers have married expansive spaciousness with the feel of a sporty, enclosed cockpit.

The aim of Honda's designers was to balance class-leading interior space, ease of use and storage space with dynamic and emotional design. In order to achieve this, the space and layout of the HR-V was determined ahead of Honda's designers bringing the overall concept to life. Accordingly, HR-V boasts an interior packed with functionality but also with a sense of personal space and fun. Roomy and incredibly versatile, the HR-V's cabin brings the virtues of an MPV into the crossover segment for the first time while providing a driving position which engenders a sense of agility and dynamism.

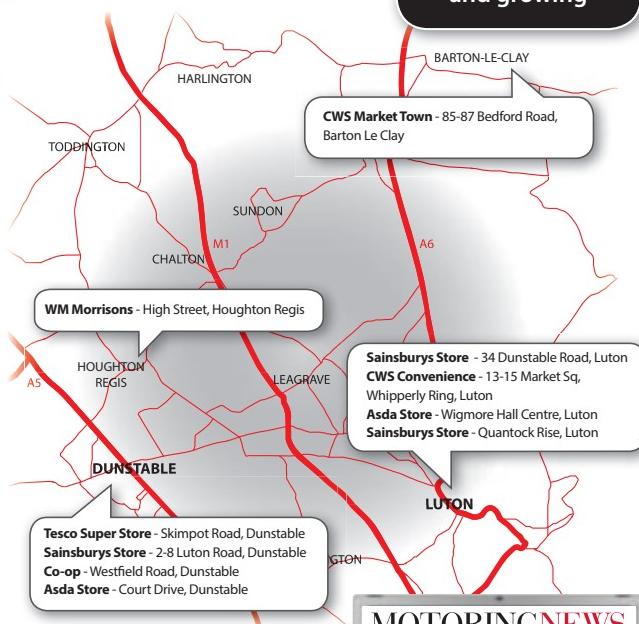

Travelling long distances in the new HR-V will be a comfortable and fatigue-free experience for the driver and passengers thanks to Honda engineers' determination to provide this model with class-best levels of refinement.

Honda's all-new HR-V line-up will go on sale in the UK in late summer.

Land Rover DS Take a look inside...

Land Rover reckons that this Discovery Sport is the most versatile premium compact SUV currently on sale – and it's a credible claim. This is, after all, the only prestigiously-badged car in this segment that can seat seven. It's also smart, practical, safe – and rugged enough to go a lot further than its rivals off the beaten track. Plus a state-of-the-art range of 'Ingenium' 2.0 TD4 diesel engines offer class-leading power and efficiency. It all means that there's nothing else quite like this car.

The engines are Land Rover's advanced 2.0-litre four cylinder Ingenium TD4 units, shared with the Range Rover Evoque and designed to deliver improved efficiency, along with class-leading torque and power. The most affordable TD4 unit in the range comes with 150PS and 350Nm of torque, but it's only offered with this car in five-seat form. Here, 62mph from rest occupies 11s on the way to 112mph.

Most though, will want the 180PS variant which comes only with the seven-seat layout and delivers a much lustier 430Nm of torque. Here, there's a maximum speed of 117mph, while 62mph from rest takes 9.4s, though you can reduce this figure by a second if you take up the option of the slick nine-speed ZF auto gearbox many owners will want. More importantly, this variant has enough pulling power to permit a towing capability of up to 2,500kgs when the optional Tow Pack is fitted.

Even if you'd never seen a picture of the Discovery Sport, you could probably generate a reasonably accurate mental sketch of it were you to imagine crossing a Range Rover with a five-door Evoque. It's a really handsome piece of design work that instantly makes even a good-looking rival like the Volvo V60 look old. It also serves to make the conservative Audi Q5 look positively lumpy.

Once again, Land Rover has looked at a market that many thought was packed to bursting point and spotted a significant gap, into which it's parked the Discovery Sport. What other car of this kind can seat seven, set off in the Serengeti and slot right in as easily in Sloane Square as it will in the tightest multi-storey carpark space? No other premium compact SUV can do all this.

New look side kept out by the Canaries

HATTERS

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsmedia.co.uk

PRE-SEASON FRIENDLY

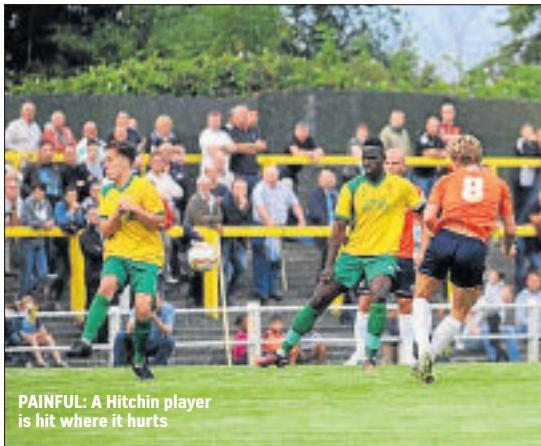

HITCHIN TOWN	0
LUTON TOWN	0

THERE were no goals but Luton target Craig Mackail-Smith was a class apart against Hitchin with a full display – bar finding the net – of the talents Town hope to secure.

Pace, danger and a nifty trick of leaving defenders in his wake, the Scottish international teamed up well with Josh McQuoid, whose performance was another highlight at Top Field on Thursday.

But neither of the Hatters' strikers, or their 16 team-mates, managed to register against the Canaries and much of that was down to their keeper Charlie Horlock who, recently released by Wycombe Wanderers, pulled off a handful of saves to claim a clean sheet.

Whether Town will be with or without Mackail-Smith, once the League Two campaign kicks-off against Accrington, remains to be seen, but there was a first chance for the 1,661 largely Luton crowd to get a first look at Scott Cuthbert.

The former Leyton Orient favourite was given a full 90 minutes but it was former West Ham defender Dan Potts that stood out among the backline.

Playing at left-back, he looked assured in attack and defence but was forced into the latter with a last-ditch tackle to deny Jamie Arlick in the 13th minute.

Though McQuoid had been busy in attack, Luton failed to fashion a chance until the 23rd minute when Mackail-Smith weaved his way into the box, but Cameron McGeehan could not steer his cross on target.

The free agent striker then carved an opportunity out of nothing but saw keeper Horlock palm his shot away at full stretch.

Five minutes before the break McGeehan was frustrated by the Canaries' stopper, with Mackail-Smith again the orchestrator of the move.

After a goalless first half, Luton made six changes, leaving on Nathan Doyle, Potts and Mackail-Smith.

Cuthbert and the impressive trio of McQuoid, Potts and Mackail-Smith.

Former Turkish youth goalkeeper Deniz Mehmet, a trialist, was given a half between the Town posts and had to do more marginally than Elliot Justham with a low save to keep out

Batting fails in T20 semi final to end hopes of silverware

CRICKET

BEDFORDSHIRE were knocked out of the Unicorns T20 competition in the last four after a batting collapse against Oxfordshire led to a seven wicket defeat on finals day.

The county had already knocked out Hertfordshire, Berkshire and Cambridgeshire to make the semi-finals but progressed no further on a rain hit day in Banbury on Sunday.

After being inserted by hosts Oxfordshire, Beds slumped to 26-6 at one stage as the top six in their order all failed to reach double figures.

Shah Hussain, coming in at eight, provided the sole resistance with a terrific knock of 55 from 35 deliveries, which included two fours and four sixes.

His efforts could only bring Beds up to 106-7 though with their innings reduced to 14 overs due to the rain.

Karl Penhale did most of the damage with the ball for Oxfordshire, finishing with figures of 4-27.

The hosts required a revised Duckworth-Lewis target of 94 to reach the final and they needed just 11.3 overs to get there for the loss of only three wickets.

Richard Kaufman struck 47 before George Thurstance trapped him LBW, while Colin Griggs bowled Hugo Darby for 21, but the visitors always had a huge mountain to climb.

In the final, Oxfordshire were thrashed by Cheshire who had earlier knocked out Devon in their semi final by nine runs.

The eventual champions posted a stunning score of 240-0 as openers Warren Goodwin (132 not out) and Ollie Law (101 not out) both finished unbeaten after passing three figures.

They then bowled out Oxfordshire for just 121 to complete a crushing 119 run victory.

Bedfordshire are due to return to three day action today for their latest outing in the Unicorns Minor Counties Championship.

Cumberland are the visitors to Bedford School with an 11am start.

The county have drawn twice and lost once so far this season to sit seventh in the Eastern Division.

Their visitors have started with two victories from three games and are second in the table.

Simon Martin.

But Horlock was by far the busier of the two custodians, continuing his stubborn streak by beating Mackail-Smith in the air, while Jonathan Smith was unable to turn in the loose ball.

McQuoid blazed over and then saw Dan Webb and Horlock combine to deny him after a solo burst.

Luton had ramped up the tempo but not their accuracy as an audacious Mackail-Smith overhead kick found only the top of the net and McQuoid lashed inches over when well-placed.

That was the former Bournemouth striker's last taste of action as he was replaced by Zane Banton.

A deflected Alex Lawless cross wrong-footed Horlock for the first time in the match but clipped the top of the crossbar.

Mackail-Smith turned the Hitchin defence inside out once more but his cross found only centre back David Corran who hacked clear to complete the shutout.

Luton (1st half): Justham, O'Donnell, Potts, McNulty, Cuthbert, McGeehan, Mackail-Smith, Doyle, Guttridge, Wilkinson, McQuoid

Unused subs: Trotman, Onyemah, Galliford, Robinson, Williams, Lacey.

BID REJECTED: Jake Howells

Howells hopes to go but Town reject bid

HATTERS

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

LUTON have turned down an offer for Jake Howells despite the 24-year-old asking to leave the club, but Fraser Franks has left Kenilworth Road to join League Two rivals Stevenage.

Howells came up through the Town ranks and last season passed his 300th appearance milestone, but after a busy summer, in which the Hatters have signed ten new players, it looks like opportunities will be limited for the one-club man.

He suffered a minor injury in Sunday's 2-1 friendly win at Lowestoft and missed Tuesday's 1-1 pre-season draw at Boreham

Wood. Still said: "He just felt he'd been here long enough, I think that was what he said, and 'if I don't try something else maybe I'll never try something else.'

"We made him available [for transfer]. We had some enquiries. We had an offer, which we turned down and that's exactly where it is."

"The fact that he asked to go doesn't mean I think any less of him. I understand that he's helped the club get back into the Football League."

"He's had a year [and said] 'I need to experience something else'. I respect that, but that's his choice, not ours."

Centre back Franks was put on the transfer list this summer and could now line up against the Hatters next season after signing on at Stevenage.

Still also eluded to a departure for Matt Robinson.

The midfielder – who played a pre-season match for Dagenham last week, along with Alex Lacey – travelled with Town to Boreham Wood but did not feature.

"There are some outgoings," Still said, adding: "I'm always very respectful for players that have done well for this football club."

"It's the only way to be. I think it's important that you treat people with that respect."

"If you feel they're not quite what you want at that time, you look back on what they have done, be it Fraser or Matt Robinson."

"These people helped us get into the Football League and we must treat them respectfully, if we feel that it's time for them to move on, we need to help them and encourage them to do the right things, without putting them under too much pressure."

"We've made them available. If nothing comes along that they want, that's fine. On the other hand, we have to move in the direction we think [best]."

"It's always difficult when you have players that have done well for you and that you like, but business is business."

"As long as we treat them right, that's what we'll do."

The club have already taken a £100,000 loss on midfielder Andy Drury, who signed for the six figure sum from Crawley Town last summer but rarely justified that fee in his second spell at Kenilworth Road.

He has now moved on to National League side Eastleigh.

be. He's a senior pro, so someone like him would be great for me, personally, to have around. It would be nice to see him in a Luton Town shirt."

Still, meanwhile, hopes his close relationship with the striker will help secure his services but insists he is not getting carried away by a potential deal.

"If we get Craig that would be great but we'll wait and see," Still said, adding: "I'm not getting over-excited about it."

Mackail-Smith's parents were at Boreham Wood and had a friendly chat with old friend Still who gave their son his big break while boss of Dagenham in 2004, plucking him from non-league Bedfordshire outfit Arlesey Town.

Still said: "It's a really difficult one in terms of when I say 'we talk'. As you saw with his mum and dad, I've obviously got a very close relationship with him, always have."

"I'm not saying I speak to him every week, but I speak to him regularly. I always have done with most of the players I've had before. I think that always helps me get them back, when we try to get them back."

"Craig is no different. He's looking at what he thinks his next move should be. He had a bit of injury when he was at Brighton."

"Dave Richardson [Luton fitness coach] has a good relationship with him and has seen him over the years."

"He [Mackail-Smith] thought it [Luton] was the right place to come, as long as it was okay with us, while he decided what the right thing was for him to do."

"We agreed on a time to have a talk, when he gets a bit fitter, to see where he is. We'll start talking now, but we'll wait and see."

"This is a two-way street. We wanted to help Craig. He didn't know what he wanted to do and we would like to work with him if we can make something happen. At the moment, we're all comfortable with it."

DEFENDER Dan Potts says he will do his best to persuade Luton Town target Craig Mackail-Smith to join him at Kenilworth Road.

Hatters boss John Still revealed this week that he will begin talks with the 31-year-old striker, who has been on trial at the club this pre-season since his release from Championship outfit Brighton and Hove Albion.

Mackail-Smith is a sought after striker, with former club Peterborough and Notts County two of the sides linked with him, yet he remains with Luton for the time being.

Southend United boss Phil Brown has also publicly declared his interest in the player, with the Shrimpers manager expressing a wish for him to appear on trial in their friendlies.

Potts, who signed a two-year deal with the Hatters a day after his West Ham contract expired, admits that there are a number of players at his new team that are doing their best to convince the Scottish international to stay where he is.

"It's not just me in his ear," said the 21-year-old, adding: "I think there are a few. He's a good lad, a top professional and he knows what is right for him.

"If it does happen it will be great but we'll have to wait and see. It's not up to me but I'll get in his ear, don't worry."

Mackail-Smith scored for Town in a 1-1 friendly draw at Boreham Wood on Tuesday, and was the best player on the pitch in a 0-0 stalemate at Hitchin 48 hours later. It was more than enough to show Potts the possibilities of a permanent switch, if Still can pull it off.

"I think that will be a really good signing, if the feeling is mutual and something can get sorted," the defender said, adding: "He's been with us from the start [of pre-season] and he's a top professional.

"He gives it his all and, if he's on trial he's still pushing to be the best he can
